Affiliate Section Membership Application

"Affiliate" or "affiliate member" means a member of The Florida Bar who has chosen "inactive" status, law school professors, and law school students. The purpose of affiliate membership is to foster the development and communication of information between arbitrators, mediators, and the people who often work with arbitration and/or mediation lawyers. Affiliate members have all the privileges accorded to members of the section except that affiliates may not vote, hold office, or participate in the selection of officers or members of the executive council. Annual dues are $45.

The ADR Section offers networking opportunities with litigators, mediators, and arbitrators; CLE on how to effectively represent clients in mediation; technology CLE; opportunities to publish articles; leadership through committee service; a Mentoring Academy for Attorney-Mediators; an Arbitration Advocacy Institute; free monthly forums for mediators and arbitrators; mediation mixers; and more. Join us today and build your statewide network of mediation referral sources and friends.
